Join us for an Online Panel Discussion on:

Moving Forward with Pine-Hardwood Mixed Stands

July 30th starting at 11 am CT/12 pm ET

https://auburn.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_pD0ISuLBRbqgglogW0207g

This webinar will discuss issues surrounding the management of mixed pine-hardwood stands in the southeastern United States. Experts from silviculture, forest economics, wildlife biology, and rural sociology will be taking and asking questions in a panel discussion. The audience is also invited to ask questions to our panel and provide insight into the conversation.

Speakers:

Shaun Tanger
(Mississippi State University)

David Clabo
(University of Georgia)

Don Greber
(Mississippi State University)

William Gulsby
(Auburn University)

John Willis
(United States Forest Service)

Brady Self
(Mississippi State University)

Mike Blazier
(Louisiana State University)

Jason Gordon
(University of Georgia)

Beau Brodbeck
(Auburn University)

Mixed Stands Webinar Series
Management Overview

USDA FOREST SERVICE US DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

Who should attend?

Forest managers, environmental scientists, private land owners, graduate students, wildlife biologists, and economists.

Objectives:

Discuss the potential opportunities mixed stands provide, delve into the potential pitfalls of managing mixed stands, highlight areas of current research, identify unknown issues surrounding managing mixed stands, and answer questions from the audience.

PAST WEBINARS

MIXED STAND MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

http://www.forestrywebinars.net/webinars/mixed-stands-overview

The first webinar in this series delved into the underlying theory of mixed stated management.

MANAGEMENT AND ECONOMIC CONSIDERATIONS FOR MIXED STAND MANAGEMENT

http://www.forestrywebinars.net/webinars/economic-considerations

The 2nd webinar in this series discussed preliminary results from a research study in Louisiana that combines Pine-Hardwood mixes in plantations. We also provided a caution for landowners considering adopting mixed stand strategies in the southeast.

CONSIDERATIONS FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF MIXED PINE-HARDWOOD STANDS

http://www.forestrywebinars.net/webinars/considerations-mixed-pine-hardwood-stands

This webinar in the series summarized early silviculture techniques and considerations for establishing mixed pine-hardwood stands in the South.